Eastern Tibet Photo Workshop

June 5 - 15, 2018

How would you like to spend 10 days photographing in Tibet and China? Wake up in luxury lodgings every day and enjoy amazing vistas, real people, behind-the-scenes access to traditional Tibetan artisans, and one-on-one photo mentoring with photographer and artist Fritz Liedtke. Not to mention some pretty stunning food.

All skill levels and types of photography are welcome. Fritz is an experienced teacher, and a photographer whose work has been featured by National Geographic, among others. His fine art and commercial photography have taken him around the world, and he'd like to share what he's learned with you. It's a chance to travel, make friends, and learn to see in new ways.

Liedtke in LensWork and LensWork Extended #104 Astra Velum

"In a world that flaunts flawlessness as the ideal, can we find real beauty in the blemishes? The result was Astra Velum, which explores the beauty of 'flawed' human skin, with its freckles and scars, overlaid upon us like a thin veil of stars."
