Portraits of Women Artists

Barbara Range

"Early this year I ended a project to bring my archive of portraits of artists to a state of gender parity with an exhibition of 71 new portraits of women artists at Pence Galley in Davis, California.

"Some are well-known such as Bella Feldman, Hung Liu, and Squeak Carnwath. At present, Hung Liu is doing mural-like paintings from Dorothea Lang's photographs."

Working from an impressive (and enormous) list of photographers, painters, sculptors, ceramicists, visual artists, and notables in the art world, Kurt is pairing his environmental portraiture with a modest amount of text — including quotes, anecdotes and vignettes as an important element in communicating the personality that we see in the image.
