

LENSWORK

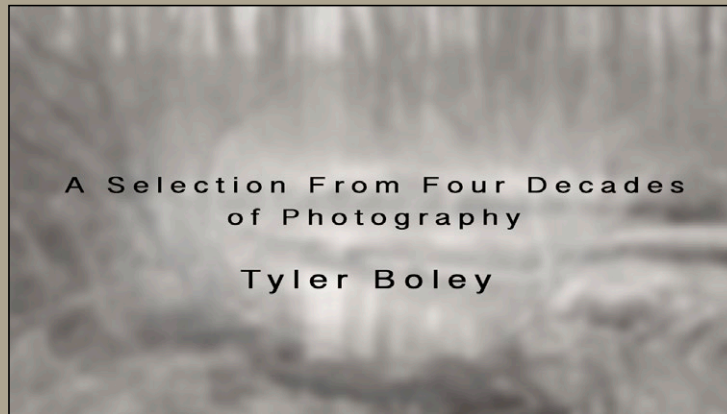

Alumni News

Tyler Boley — Seattle, Washington

tylerboley.com

New Video

As the title says, this is a specific selection from the last 40 years of my photography. The more I worked on it the more daunting it became, particularly the selection. Many things were omitted as they felt out of place in the flow, this is a bit of an overview.

Now I'd like to make some shorter more focused selections, and of course make music for each. The music for this, "Other," was made specifically as a background soundscape for the images, so it meanders aimlessly with no real "events" to distract. It's not a stand alone piece IMHO, play it soft. Titles are in the youtube description.

Thanks for looking. Likes on youtube, shares, and views, are very helpful. The algorithms there do not support us small folk at all. These things really help, in order to come up in searches and get recommended, to get seen at all.

<https://youtu.be/xKkU47zSHxA>

Boley in LensWork Extended #69 Landscapes of the Pacific Northwest

This series of intimate, quiet and compelling landscapes explore the unique geology and light of the Pacific Northwest. Rather than the ubiquitous "grand landscape" Boley turns his camera towards a subtler environment, a familiar one and explores his personal relationship with the land he has known his entire life.

Back issues of LensWork Extended perpetually available here.

